The number of candidates who have time to communicate can be increased to at least 6

Al Agent - Customer Service Agent CRM

来也

Pain Points

A pharmaceutical company will have a professional customer service team (about 20 people) to take the initiative to contact the customer (about 400k), provide health guidance and recommend products to facilitate the customer's second purchase.

- 1. The service level is not up to standard, some may lead to losing business
- 2. As pharmaceutical companies open up more sales channels and provide more products and services, current customer service team is already working at full capacity and cannot cope with the larger traffic.

Solution

- 1. Train a large model based on the customer's product service manual, so tha the large model can replace manual customer service to provide professional health guidance for customers
- 2. Train the large model based on the customer's product manual, so that the large model can answer the customer's questions about the product and recommend the product according to the customer's own situation
- 3. Train a large model based on the customer's order information, so that the large model can accurately extract the customer's order information and identify the products purchased by the customer, so that the follow-up service can focus on the products that the customer buys and cares about.

Al Agent – Contract Review Agent

Contracts (copies)
annually
Overseas contracts:
70,000
Domestic contracts:
160,000

- Commercial Department: Undertake the overseas and domestic contract processing work of the company's sales department
- Personnel: 40 people in total, of which 28 are working on domestic contracts and 12 are working on overseas contracts.
- Scope: including contract review and contract information

Job Description 1: Review the overall legal risk of the contract

Contracts related to hardware products, software products and services need to be checked for different types of contracts. The standard contract is revised 2-3 times a year

Job Description 2: Proofreading of the terms of the standard contract

There are a large number of standard clauses in overseas and domestic contracts, and need to be compared one by one.

Job Description 3: Comparison of contract versions

The contract is revised back and forth between the customer and the commercial department, and the content without revision marks needs to be manually compared with the version.

Job Description 4: contract information entry

After the contract is finalized, the contract information needs to be manually entered into the contract management system for archiving, which is convenient for subsequent statistics and analysis
